

CALIFORNIA OIL FOR BIG SMELTER

Thirteen cars of oil from Southern California fields for the Steppe Smelting company were received at McGill this last week. The big tank cars hold about 9000 gallons each, making the total of the supply received about 162,000 gallons. There are three furnaces now using oil for fuel and the amount required by each is between 250 and 300 barrels in 24 hours, or a total of about 12,000 gallons a day.

On receipt of the oil at the works it is emptied into large concrete reservoirs on the hillside, above the plant, from which it flows by gravity through pipes to the furnace.

The end of the furnace where the oil is fed is walled up with loose fire brick in which a row of small openings is left. The oil burners are simply a number of lengths of two-inch pipe terminating in a one-inch nozzle. The series of pipes is suspended in front of the furnace with the nozzles directed into the holes in the brick work. In these pipes the oil is mixed with superheated steam and is forced from the nozzle under great pressure in a black stream. About a foot from the nozzle the mixture of oil and steam turns into spray and takes fire.

But a few feet from the nozzle the furnace is filled with an incandescent semi-liquid of ore. The use of oil will permit the fires to be forced to a greater extent than is possible with coal, should it be necessary, while the liquid fuel is supplied more evenly and regularly than any other kind could be.—Ely Expositor.

TAKING NEW OFFICES.

The S. P. railroad is to move into the Palace gambling house on Commercial Row in Reno. The place is situated close to the railroad and should make ideal offices. Had it been suggested a few years ago that this famous gambling corner would become a commercial room it would have caused a large smile to play over Reno. The times are surely changing in the wild and woolly west.

EMBEZZLER WITH HALF OF THE LOOT

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 24.—Edward Valentine Lee, the paymaster's clerk, who when arrested in this city yesterday had in his possession a little more than half of the $48,000 he is alleged to have taken from the safe of the battleship Georgia in Havana harbor February 11, was taken before United States Commissioner Keating yesterday and charged with embezzlement. He admitted his guilty, waived examination and was held for grand jury indictment.

A Kansas butcher was driving a cow to his slaughter house when a stranger stopped him and said: "What are you going to do with that cow?" "I'm going to kill her," said the butcher. The stranger looked the cow over carefully. "Oh, I don't believe I'd do that. If you feed her up awhile I think she will live."—Kansas Magazine.

STILL FIGHTING IN YERINGTON

It is said that over in Yerington, an internal conflict is raging over the location of the new county courthouse, the friends of the various sites making it very warm for the commissioners.

Yerington had such a long, hard fight to land the county seat that the habit of "scrapping" has gained a strong foothold, but the location of the new county building will no doubt be decided upon without a division of the town.

AUTO HELD UP NEAR WINNEMUCCA

At about 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening an auto returning from National with three passengers was held up at a point about three miles north of Winnemucca. The "hold-ups," however, were not masked highwaymen, but three deputy sheriffs, armed with a search warrant, presumably looking for high-grade.

A prominent Pasadena mining man, who was a passenger on the car, stated, in relating his experience: "The officers were very gentlemanly about the matter and gave us a regular 'custom-house search.' The whole thing lasted about ten minutes, at the expiration of which time we were allowed to proceed on our way. No contraband of any description was discovered."

LOOKING UP HUMBOLDT COUNTY LAND AND MINES

Fred T. McGurran and J. W. Cover left for the Rebel Creek district Saturday afternoon for the purpose of inspecting lands and mines in that vicinity. The former is a well-known Salt Lake City attorney, a brother of Frank E. McGurran, president of the Salt Lake Security Trust company and who, according to his own statement, "makes his money practicing law and spends it in mining speculations." Mr. Cover is one of the prominent mining and real estate operators of Seattle.

BURIED WITH MONEY.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Literally buried under nine millions of dollars in gold, Wadsworth S. Williams, an employee of the San Francisco mint, was so badly injured yesterday that his recovery is doubtful. The gold, in sacks, toppled in one of the mint vaults and overwhelmed Williams, who was wheeling a truck.

TUSCARORA IS BEING REVIVED

The old mining camp of Tuscarora is again attracting the attention of the mining men. For years the mines have been flooded with water, and water coming within a few feet of the surface. A strong eastern corporation has taken over most of the holdings and the camp is again enjoying prosperity. Many men have been put on the payroll and unwatering the shafts is now in progress.

The report that was published a few days ago that the power plant at Jacks creek, which furnishes electricity to Tuscarora, had been completely destroyed by fire, was exaggerated. The transformers were burned out and will be immediately replaced. Tuscarora furnished the world with some forty million dollars' worth of precious mineral and will soon again be on the producing scale. The old camps are coming back at a rapid rate.

FAIRVIEW MILL TO SOON START

The Wonder Mining News states that the new mill at Fairview will be ready to pound out bullion by the first of September. The mill at the Nevada Hills is about ready for commission and as soon as some wiring is finished the big plant will start crushing. This is the first sound a mining camp ever had. A mine without a mill is like a chicken house without chickens.

It is an ornament. The best proof of a district is mills to crush the ores, and from all accounts Wonder and Fairview will soon be making history and bullion.
